FOLK GIVES UP $35,000 INCOME FOR SOLICITORSHIP

Ex-Governor, Home, Says He Has Made That Sum Lecturing; New Salary $5000.

UPHOLDS BRYAN'S COURSE

Washington Prices Make It Almost Necessary to Work in Vacation, He Says.

Former Gov. Joseph W. Folk, newly appointed Solicitor of the State Department, returned from Washington Friday morning, and at his home, 5829 Cates avenue, told a Post-Dispatch reporter how he was sacrificing a chautauqua income of $35,000 a year to work for the people at $5000.

"For the past three years," he said, "I have averaged $35,000 a year from chautauqua lecturing alone, working only a part of the time. In giving this up in accepting the position of Solicitor, I am not ready to say whether I shall do any more chautauqua lecturing while I hold that position. I will decide that question when it arises."

"But I will say that I see no propriety in Mr. Bryan's lecturing in his vacation time, and no good reason for the hue and cry that has been raised about it."

"At Washington this winter," Folk continued, "Mrs. Folk and I will live at the New Willard. That is an expensive hotel, but it is cheaper than renting a house would be. Such a house as I have in St. Louis would cost, in Washington, not less than $15,000 a year. That is why it is impossible for important officers of the Government to live in Washington on salaries which the Government pays them."

"It is pretty nearly a case of having to get out and earn money in the summer to enable one to work for the people the rest of the year."

The New Willard is the biggest hotel in Washington. Folk's St. Louis residence is a handsome 12-room brick house.

The former Governor said that, despite published reports of his withdrawal as a senatorial candidate against Senator Stone next year, he had not decided on his future political activities. He said he would consider any such question without regard to his position at Washington. He was not ready to make a more definite announcement.

Amused by Succession Rumor. He seemed amused by the report, published in a St. Louis newspaper, that he soon would succeed by Bryan as Secretary of State. "I can't discuss such a report with propriety," he said.

The Folk home will be closed within a few days, and the former Governor and Mrs. Folk will go to Washington. His law office in the Pierce Building will be maintained, he said.

He declared his belief that the currency bill, passed by the House Thursday, would be a more important measure for the measure for the tariff bill, and would improve business conditions at once.

WIDOW, 55, KILLS SELF

Drinks Poison at the Home of Her Son.

Mrs. William Moran, a widow, 55 years old, who made her home with an invalid son at 1018 North High street, ended her life by swallowing poison, Friday morning. She entered the son's room and said: "It's all off," and drank a mixture to kill vermin.

She was started to the city dispensary in an ambulance, but died on the way.

Elevator Men Strike in Skyscraper at Lunch Hour

Most of the 4000 Persons in the Pierce Building Have to Walk Down, but Substitute Man Cars and Take Them Up.

At noon Friday, when most of the 4000 daytime inhabitants of the Pierce Building at Fourth and Pine streets were in a hurry to go out for lunch, the elevator conductors went on a strike.

In addition to walking out, the strikers also walked down. They ran their 10 cars to the seventeenth floor, right under the roof, and literally left them in a state of suspense.

Before the lunch hour was over, the cars had been manuevered with emergency conductors and the workers were spared the inconvenience of climbing back to their offices.

The trouble started when Dan Bergen, one of the conductors, refused to serve as a relief for Frederick Cotton, a secretary. Cotton thereupon discharged Bergen. After demanding Bergen's reinstatement, the conductors voted to strike.

According to Thomas Tulley, superintendent of the building, Cotton chose one of the assistant engineers to serve as starter when he went to lunch Thursday. This angered the conductors, who thought that one of their number should have been chosen for temporary service. The conductors, he said, were all ambitious to rise to the post of starter, which carries with it some authority and considerable gold bread.

Quincy Slevier, who acted as spokesman for the strikers, said that Cotton did not choose an assistant engineer but a mere office boy as his substitute. Elevator conductors have a particular aversion for office boys.

Conductors So Straight. When the men decided that they were aggrieved, they went to John M. Robinson, manager of the building, and demanded that Bergen be reinstated. Robinson told them that this could not be done unless ordered by Starter Cotton.

The elevator boys went straight up and left their cars at the top. Within half an hour Robinson, Tulley and Cotton had recruited a force from the engine rooms and offices and the cars were again in operation.

Sixteen—Flight Walk. The strike, coming at the noon hour, when the elevators are always heavily used, caused a commotion in the big office building. Women stenographers and clerks in some cases were forced to walk down 6 flights of stairs to reach the street.

Many who did not know what had happened crowded about the elevator doors, pressed the signal buttons and fretted and fumed because of the delay. They said unkind things about the elevator service while they saw their precious noon hour flitting by.

Architect Sues Realty Company, $85,407 Is Asked.

Harry F. Roach Seeks Pay for Plans for Holbrook-Blackwelder Real Estate Trust Co.

Suit for $85,407 was filed in the Circuit Court Friday by Harry F. Roach, architect, against the Holbrook-Blackwelder Real Estate Trust Co. Roach contends that the firm owes him that sum for sketches and plans of buildings drawn by him.

The largest item is $50,000, which the plaintiff says is due for work on a proposed building which was to occupy three-quarters of the block on which the new Railway Exchange Building stands.

Roach sets forth that in 1907 he was employed by the defendant to draw plans for the alteration of the Century Building, to be occupied by Hughes, Vanderbilt & Barney, and that he made various working plans from time to time, but owing to unexpired leases the work could not be completed. He sues for $22,500 for this.

The plaintiff says that Dec. 1, 1911, he was employed by the defendant to draw plans for a proposed hotel at Eighth and Olive streets, 13 stories high, and that he performed the work, for which he asks $2500.

March 15, 1913, Roach says, he was employed to execute plans for a six-story factory building at 2700 Olive street. For the estimates and plans furnished in this instance he asks $150.

Last April, according to the petition, Roach was employed to make plans for a proposed hotel at the northeast corner of Eleventh and Pine streets, for which he was to receive $7500. Of this sum $4000 was to be paid when the plans and contracts and the balance when the building was completed. He says the defendant paid $1500 Aug. 5 and he sues for $2500, the balance of the $4000. Frank B. Coleman is attorney for Roach.

W. J. Holbrook of the Holbrook-Blackwelder Real Estate Trust Co. in reply to a request by a reporter for a statement regarding Roach's suit, said that the claims are ridiculous.

"The suit," he said, "is merely one of those annoyances that come up now and then in business life."

MADERO SLAYERS IMMUNE, RULES MILITARY COURT

Death Not Brought About by Punishable Crime, Says Judges.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 18.—The deaths of the late Francisco I. Madero and Vice-President Jose Maria Pino Suarez were not brought about by a punishable crime, according to decision pronounced by the Military Court here today.

The investigation lasted six months. It was started by the military commander of the Federal District immediately on the conclusion of the 10 days' battle in the streets of Mexico City last February, which resulted in Provisional President Huerta coming into power. The result of the commandant's inquiry was forwarded to the permanent military tribunal which continued the examination of witnesses.

Among those called by the Court to give evidence was Maj. Francisco Cardenas, who commanded the escort which conveyed President Madero and Vice-President Pino Suarez from the national palace to the penitentiary. Two subordinate officers of rural guards and a number of residents in the vicinity of the jail also were examined.

GRAIN PLUNGER SUED FOR DIVORCE, CRUELTY CHARGED

Wife Asserts William Lanyon Cursed and Threatened to Kill Her.

IN CORN AND WHEAT DEALS

Broker and Mining Man Declines to Discuss the Charges Made in Petition.

William Lanyon of 4440 Lindell boulevard and for many years a plunger in the St. Louis grain market, was sued for divorce Friday by Mrs. Annie Willett Lanyon, who is now living at the Usona Hotel.

Mrs. Lanyon's petition, which is brief, charges that Lanyon called her coarse names, cursed her, threatened to kill her, made her the object of abuse, expressed lack of love for her and asked her to remove herself from his presence. She says Lanyon inherited a large property, which has grown as the result of her industry and economy. She asks the court to fix her alimony.

The Lanyons were married 31 years ago. Mrs. Lanyon's petition states, and have two sons, 23 and 18 years old, and a daughter, 21. She does not state the date of the separation. The older son, Robert Morale Lanyon, then a sophomore in Yale University, was married in 1911 to Alice Lillian O'Connor, a vaudeville actress, and leaving school, went to work in his father's office in the Pierce building. He is now manager of a mine at Hillsboro, Mo.

Has Mines Near Joplin. William Lanyon is president of the Lanyon-Starr Smelter Co. and the Lanyon Zinc and Acid Co. His mining interests are in the Joplin region, and before his removal to St. Louis he was Mayor of Pittsburg, Kan., one of the principal towns of the zinc and lead district.

In the early spring of 1911, Lanyon engineered "change a deal" involving more than 1,000,000 bushels of May wheat. He took the bull side of the market, and bought all the grain in sight. A vigorous squeezing of the shorts, dealers who lacked sufficient grain to fill their contracts with him, and who were thus forced to pay to him the difference between the price at which it was purchased and that of the day for delivery, was part of Lanyon's program.

Lanyon, though long in the St. Louis market, found himself short in Chicago, and got the worst of his big deal, his losses being estimated from $40,000 to $100,000.

Lanyon's dealings in March, 1912, were not so spectacular as those of the year before, but attracted considerable attention. He went into a corn deal, and was reported short a million bushels at the time. His loss was heavy.

Since that time he has not figured prominently in grain speculation.

Lanyon Decries Big Deals. At his office Lanyon told a reporter that he attributed the suit in part to newspaper stories connecting him recently with grain deals. He said these stories were untrue, and that his dealing in the last 15 months had been on a small scale.

He said he would not talk of the charges made in his wife's petition, but remarked: "You know, there are always two sides to a story, and I say you can never tell which way a woman or a goat will butt."

When the fact of his wife's absence from the Lindell boulevard home was mentioned, Lanyon said, "I have always had a home, ever since I was married. I don't care for hotels." He would not say whether any desire on his wife's part for hotel life had contributed to their disagreements.

SULZER IS BEATEN IN EFFORT TO BAR 4 SENATOR-JUDGES

Impeachment Court Unanimously Refuses to Consider Challenges by Governor Against Members of Frawley Investigating Committee; Each One Is Seated.

CHARGES NULL, VOID, DEFENSE DECLARES

Constitutionality of Action of Assembly in Adopting Impeachment Articles in Extraordinary Session Is Attacked; Rules Adopted.

By Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Gov. Sulzer's lawyers lost their first fight in the High Court of Impeachment today when the four Senators challenged by the defense were permitted to retain their seats.

The vote, which was on the question of whether the court should entertain the challenges, was unanimous against such procedure. The four Senators directly concerned—Frawley, Wagner, Ramsperger and Sanner—did not vote.

Immediately following the vote of the court the reading of the long articles of impeachment was begun.

Judge Cullen Waives Prerogative. Although Presiding Judge Cullen had the right to decide the question of the qualifications of the Senators for holding their seats, he did not take advantage of this prerogative. He first expressed his opinion that the objections were not well grounded and then permitted the entire court to vote on the issue.

In addressing the court, Judge Cullen said that no court had the right to sit in judgment on any one of its members. In this, he said, a court differed greatly from a jury, the qualifications of members of which might be decided by the courts.

The vote came after a morning of legal argument between Judges Herlick and Parker, representing the defense and the prosecution, respectively.

Judge Herlick's chief argument was that no man might sit both as prosecutor and judge. In reply, Judge Parker said the members of the court were here as representatives of the whole people; that the people established the court of impeachment in the beginning and that none other than the people had a right to remove their representatives.

The scene within the courtroom this morning was vastly different from that presented yesterday. Less than half the seats in the gallery were occupied at the opening of the argument. Throughout the morning spectators moved in and out, but at no time were all the seats filled.

Dismissal of Charges Asked. When Judge Cullen directed Clerk McCabe to read the articles of impeachment a motion was made by Senator Follock of New York that the reading be dispensed with. In reply, Judge Parker said the members of the court were here as representatives of the whole people; that the people established the court of impeachment in the beginning and that none other than the people had a right to remove their representatives.

DR. OSTERHAUS, SON OF ADMIRAL, TAKEN TO HOSPITAL RAVING

Chair Leg as Foil, Physician Is Found Fencing Imaginary Foe in Hotel Room.

Dr. Karl Osterhaus, 32 years old, son of Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, retired, and himself an assistant surgeon in the navy, was taken to the city hospital observation ward Friday, for the second time in five weeks. He was found in his room in the Maryland Hotel, breaking furniture and challenging some imaginary enemy to a fencing match. As a foil, he was brandishing the leg of a chair which he had demolished.

The principal attack was directed against the constitutionality of the action of the Assembly in adopting the impeachment articles during an extraordinary session when the subject matter had not been recommended by the Governor.

Need to Discuss Motion. "Gov. Sulzer did not recommend the subject of his impeachment," said Martell, "nor did he in any way suggest the consideration of any charges against himself."

When Attorney Marshall concluded Judge Cullen asked if counsel for the impeachment managers contemplated taking issue with any of the facts, as distinguished from the points of law, raised by the Governor's counsel. Judge Parker asked for recess while he and his colleagues considered the matter.

Adjournment was taken until 2 p. m. Immediately after the court convened at 10 o'clock this morning Senator Wagner, chairman of the Committee on Rules, submitted the committee's report, which was adopted without objection.

The rules provide for daily sessions except Saturday, from 10 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and from 2 to 5 p. m. On Mondays the court will convene at 1 p. m. and sit until 6 p. m., and on Fridays the hour of final adjournment will be 1:30 p. m. The hours may be changed from time to time by the court.

Rules to Govern Trial. The conduct of the trial is to be governed by the rules prevailing in the Supreme Court of the State.

The elevator boys went straight up and left their cars at the top. Within half an hour Robinson, Tulley and Cotton had recruited a force from the engine rooms and offices and the cars were again in operation.

Sixteen-Flight Walk. The strike, coming at the noon hour, when the elevators are always heavily taxed, caused a commotion in the big office building. Women stenographers and clerks in some cases were forced to walk down 6 flights of stairs to reach the street.

Many who did not know what had happened crowded about the elevator doors, pressed the signal buttons and fretted and fumed because of the delay. They said unkind things about the elevator service while they saw their precious noon hour flitting by.

Architect Sues Realty Company, $85,407 Is Asked.

Harry F. Roach Seeks Pay for Plans for Holbrook-Blackwelder Real Estate Trust Co.

Suit for $85,407 was filed in the Circuit Court Friday by Harry F. Roach, architect, against the Holbrook-Blackwelder Real Estate Trust Co. Roach contends that the firm owes him that sum for sketches and plans of buildings drawn by him.

GRAIN PLUNGER SUED FOR DIVORCE, CRUELTY CHARGED

Wife Asserts William Lanyon Cursed and Threatened to Kill Her.

IN CORN AND WHEAT DEALS

Broker and Mining Man Declines to Discuss the Charges Made in Petition.

William Lanyon of 4440 Lindell boulevard and for many years a plunger in the St. Louis grain market, was sued for divorce Friday by Mrs. Annie Willett Lanyon, who is now living at the Usona Hotel.

Mrs. Lanyon's petition, which is brief, charges that Lanyon called her coarse names, cursed her, threatened to kill her, made her the object of abuse, expressed lack of love for her and asked her to remove herself from his presence. She says Lanyon inherited a large property, which has grown as the result of her industry and economy. She asks the court to fix her alimony.

The Lanyons were married 31 years ago. Mrs. Lanyon's petition states, and has two sons, 23 and 18 years old, and a daughter, 21. She does not state the date of the separation. The older son, Robert Morale Lanyon, then a sophomore in Yale University, was married in 1911 to Alice Lillian O'Connor, a vaudeville actress, and leaving school, went to work in his father's office in the Pierce building. He is now manager of a mine at Hillsboro, Mo.

Has Mines Near Joplin. William Lanyon is president of the Lanyon-Starr Smelter Co. and the Lanyon Zinc and Acid Co. His mining interests are in the Joplin region, and before his removal to St. Louis he was Mayor of Pittsburg, Kan., one of the principal towns of the zinc and lead district.

In the early spring of 1911, Lanyon engineered on "change a deal" involving more than 1,000,000 bushels of May wheat. He took the bull side of the market, and bought all the grain in sight. A vigorous squeezing of the shorts, dealers who lacked sufficient grain to fill their contracts with him, and who were thus required to pay to him the difference between the price at which it was purchased and that of the day for delivery, was part of Lanyon's program.

Lanyon, though long in the St. Louis market, found himself short in Chicago, and got the worst of his big deal, his losses being estimated from $40,000 to $100,000.

Lanyon's dealings in March, 1912, were not so spectacular as those of the year before, but attracted considerable attention. He went into a corn deal, and was reported short a million bushels at the time. His loss was heavy.

Since that time he has not figured prominently in grain speculation.

Lanyon Denies Big Deals. At his office Lanyon told a reporter that he attributed the suit in part to newspaper stories connecting him recently with grain deals. He said these stories were untrue, and that his dealing in the last 15 months had been on a small scale.

He said he would not talk of the charges made in his wife's petition, but remarked: "You know, there are always two sides to a story, and they say you can never tell which way a woman or a goat will butt."

When the fact of his wife's absence from the Lindell boulevard home was mentioned, Lanyon said, "I have always had a home, ever since I was married. I don't care for hotels." He would not say whether any desire on his wife's part for hotel life had contributed to their disagreements.

Pigeons on 3000-Mile Flight. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Two carrier pigeons freed from the roof of an office building here from the winging their way toward Pittsburg, Pa., a distance of nearly 3000 miles, a flight said to be the longest ever attempted by carrier pigeons.

The Post-Dispatch is the only evening newspaper in St. Louis that receives and publishes news gathered by the Associated Press.

EQUIPPED FOR CRIMES

Blank Death Certificates That Would Have Permitted Easy Burial in His Effects.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Four new features were developed today in the case of Father Hans Schmidt, who killed Anna Aumuller.

Schmidt is believed to have murdered a woman known as Helen Green. Among Schmidt's letters, one was found addressed to Anna Aumuller, while she was at the St. Boniface

DR. OSTERHAUS, SON OF ADMIRAL, TAKEN TO HOSPITAL RAVING

Chair Leg as Foil, Physician Is Found Fencing Imaginary Foe in Hotel Room.

Dr. Karl Osterhaus, 32 years old, son of Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus, retired, and himself an assistant surgeon in the navy, was taken to the city hospital observation ward Friday, for the second time in two weeks. He was found in his room in the Maryland Hotel, breaking furniture and challenging some imaginary enemy to a fencing match. As a foil, he was brandishing the leg of a chair which he had demolished.

Police men were called by the hotel clerk, who was informed by guests of the commotion in Osterhaus' room and quelled him. They found on his body numerous marks, which, they say, indicated the use of drugs hypodermically.

Dr. Osterhaus has been attached to the local navy recruiting office, and was in line for promotion to the position of surgeon, with the rank of Lieutenant. His father, who went on the retired list less than a year ago, is in Germany.

The young physician was taken from his room at the Maryland hotel, 448 Washington avenue, on Aug. 15, after he had broken furniture in his room and in an adjoining room. He used a sword, at that time, in slashing the curtains and decorations.

Widow Succeeded Husband as Assessor. SEAFORD, N. J., Sept. 18.—Acting Governor Painter today appointed Mrs. Eliza Lacy of Mount Vernon assessor of Lawrence County to succeed her late husband, Lee Lacy, who died.

The advantage in having your room for rent in the Post-Dispatch is that persons are in the habit of looking there to find good rooms and board.

SULZER IS BEATEN IN EFFORT TO BAR 4 SENATOR-JUDGES

Impeachment Court Unanimously Refuses to Consider Challenges by Governor Against Members of Frawley Investigating Committee; Each One Is Seated.

CHARGES NULL, VOID, DEFENSE DECLARES

Constitutionality of Action of Assembly in Adopting Impeachment Articles in Extraordinary Session Is Attacked; Rules Adopted.

By Associated Press. ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 18.—Gov. Sulzer's lawyers lost their first fight in the High Court of Impeachment today when the four Senators challenged by the defense were permitted to retain their seats.

The vote, which was on the question of whether the court should entertain the challenges, was unanimous against such procedure. The four Senators directly concerned—Frawley, Wagner, Kamsperger and Sanner—did not vote.

Immediately following the vote of the court the reading of the long articles of impeachment was begun.

Judge Cullen Waives Prerogative. Although Presiding Judge Cullen had the right to decide the question of the qualifications of the Senators for holding their seats, he did not take advantage of this prerogative. He first expressed his opinion that the objections were not well grounded and then permitted the entire court to vote on the issue.

In addressing the court, Judge Cullen said that no court had the right to sit in judgment on any one of its members. In this, he said, a court differed greatly from a jury, the qualifications of members of which might be decided by the courts.

The vote came after a morning of legal argument between Judge Herlick and Parker, representing the defense and the prosecution, respectively.

Judge Herlick's Argument. Judge Herlick's chief argument was that no man might sit both as prosecutor and judge. In reply, Judge Parker said the members of the court were here as representatives of the whole people that the people established the court of impeachment in the beginning and that none other than the people had a right to remove their representatives.

The scene within the courtroom this morning was vastly different from the one presented yesterday. Less than half the seats in the gallery were occupied at the opening of the argument. Throughout the morning spectators moved in and out, but at no time were all the seats filled.

Dismissal of Charges Asked. When Judge Cullen directed Clerk McCabe to read the articles of impeachment a motion was made by Senator Pollock of New York that the reading be dispensed with, but it was lost.

"What answer does the respondent interpose to the articles of impeachment filed by the Assembly?" queried Judge Cullen when Clerk McCabe finished reading.

James Marshall of the Governor's counsel reading from a prepared brief, first asked that the entire proceedings be dismissed on the ground that the "Court is without jurisdiction as the charges are null, void and of no effect."

The principal attack was directed against the constitutionality of the action of the Assembly in adopting the impeachment articles during an extraordinary session when the subject matter had not been recommended by the Governor.

Recuse to Discuss Motion. "Gov. Sulzer did not recommend the subject of his impeachment," said Marshall, "nor did he in any way suggest the consideration of any charges against himself."

manner put, and the members of the court shall in the same manner answer, separately, the further questions: "Shall William Sulzer be removed from his office of Governor of this State for the cause stated in the article (or articles) of the charges preferred against him upon which you have found him guilty?"

"Shall William Sulzer be disqualified to hold any office of honor, trust or profit under this State?"

"And the final judgment of the court shall be certified by the president of the court and the clerk of the court."

Sulzer's Friend Arrested.

Gov. Sulzer's personal friend and special graft investigator, James C. Garrison, slept this morning in a cell of the Albany County penitentiary. He was released to that institution by the Sergeant-at-Arms of the State Assembly for refusing to answer questions put to him by the Speaker, following his arrest on a charge of contempt. The charges grew out of his alleged statement several weeks ago that four legislators sold their votes on the resolution impeaching Gov. Sulzer.

Father Schmidt Killed Another Girl, Police Say

received a note from her. He said she knew nothing of his connection either with the murder of Anna Ammuller or counterfeiting.

As to "Dr. Muret, Schmidt said he was sorry the man was in trouble, that he never should have been locked up. Schmidt, while admitting that he had been trying to make money, insisted that he never had passed any counterfeit bills for two reasons:

(1) Because he had not brought the counterfeit bills to the degree of perfection where he thought they could be passed, and (2) because he never had intended to "above" any of the spurious bills until he had accumulated a large enough quantity of them to enable him to carry out his plan of ameliorating the condition of the poor in this country and Germany.

He declared there was no insanity in his family and that it was "not nice" on the part of the newspapers to print such stories. He said he was perfectly willing to stand an examination as to his sanity and that no one could find any trace of insanity in him.

River Drugged for Girl's Head.

The police are trying to find the head of the Ammuller girl. Early today a systematic dragging of the Hudson along the Manhattan shore between 133d and 135th streets was begun. Between these points a fisherman Wednesday brought up on his hook a quantity of woman's hair. It had been pulled out by the roots, but the bulbs were intact, indicating that the scalp had been in a state of semi-decay.

A friend of Anna Ammuller, said to have been Miss Anna Hart, identified the hair as similar if not identical with that of her friend.

Among the papers found in Schmidt's trunk in his room were photographic copies of both sides of a death certificate that had been issued in the case of Robert Smith, 30 years old, a retired merchant, who died of heart disease in his home April 24, 1913. The man who made the photographs, said Schmidt asked them to make the copies, explaining he was going to send one away and that he wanted to keep the other. In the trunk also were a number of blank death certificates and undertakers' permits. Father Schmidt has been the spiritual adviser to the Smith family and visited the house on the day of the funeral.

Discovery of photographs of the death certificate and of blank forms issued by the Board of Health led to the belief that the priest either was making preparations to send one to the Ammuller girl, or planned other murders. They questioned the prisoner about this certificate today, but his answers gave them little information. The priest has evinced a tendency lately to answer all questions with the declaration that he was directed in his acts "by God and Abraham."

Easy to Dispose of Bodies.

The police say a skilled forger, like the prisoner, would have been able to have the bodies of the victims buried in any cemetery by filling out counterfeit burial blanks and forging the signatures. They believed Schmidt caused the blanks to be photographed in order to obtain exact copies so that he might have duplicates struck off in blank.

The finding of the photographed blank in Schmidt's trunk caused detectives to dig deeper into the past of Muret.

From London came reports that Muret had been a fugitive from justice since April 23, 1911, when he was charged with having falsely represented himself as Dr. Ernst Stein, a medical practitioner. Thus far Muret has denied all knowledge of the manner in which Anna Ammuller met her death. Co-operation between a skilled forger, having accurate copies of burial blanks, and a criminal versed in medical matters would make possible, the police point out, the murder and disposal of many victims without detection.

Such blanks are issued by the Health Department only to physicians in good standing, whose records have been investigated rigidly. How Schmidt got them was unknown.

In Chicago in Hoeh's Time.

"I have learned that Dr. Muret was in Chicago at the time of the investigation of the life of Johann Hoeh, the husband of Chicago, in 1905," said Inspector Faurot today. "Hoeh was arrested in that year after it was charged, he had killed 13 of his wives. There was a report that the number of wives would be 14. Hoeh was hanged in Chicago Feb. 23, 1906, for the murder of his wife, Marie Walcker Hoeh, in 1905, by the administration of poison. It developed after his arrest that for 13 years he had made a business of marrying women, deserting some and murdering others, the motive in each case being to obtain life insurance or other property. It was well established that in 19 years he married 13 women, of whom four died under circumstances which left little doubt that they had been poisoned."

BLOWS UP HOME TO DESTROY FAMILY; IS KILLED WITH GIRL

Bloomington (Ind.) Man Ties Dynamite to Himself, Gets in Bed With Daughters.

TWO HURT, SIX ESCAPE

Tragedy Follows Refusal of Wife, Estranged Six Weeks, to Take Him Back.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Sept. 19.—In a fit of insanity, Mack Hurst, 50 years old, a stonemason, blew up his home with dynamite about 2 o'clock this morning, killing himself and one daughter, fatally wounding two other daughters and demolishing the house.

The dead are: Mack Hurst, 50 years old, and Maud Hurst, 16, and those fatally hurt are: Fannie Hurst, 13, one of whose legs was blown off and her body mangled, and Elizabeth Hurst, 6, whose body was mangled.

Separated from Wife Six Weeks.

Hurst had been separated from his wife six weeks and yesterday she refused to take him back. It is believed, he then determined to kill his wife and eight children.

The dead girl met the fate intended for her mother. Mrs. Hurst escaped because she and her daughter had changed beds for the night. After planting a stick of dynamite under each of the three beds in the house, Hurst tied two sticks to his own body, crawled into the bed which he formerly had occupied with his wife, but which last night contained the three daughters, Maud, Fannie and Elizabeth. Fannie spoke to her father, "Are you still," Hurst replied, "We will all die together."

Only One Stick Exploded.

Before the girl could make a move the explosion rent the house and aroused the entire city. Police and firemen arrived quickly, but the two injured girls to a hospital and cleared away the debris.

Four sticks of dynamite, unexploded, were found in the ruins and the fact that only one, and that one attached to Hurst's body had exploded, accounted for the escape of the other members of the family.

WIDOW'S DAMAGE SUIT IS TRIED IN 30 MINUTES

Just 20 minutes were required in the East St. Louis City Court Friday morning to try the damage suit of a woman whose husband had been killed by a train. In the half hour the evidence was presented, the jury deliberated and returned its verdict. The widow is to receive $400.

The case was that of Mrs. Pearl Church against the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railroad, and was brought under the new Illinois workmen's compensation act. Mrs. Church's husband, William C. Church, a switchman, was killed at Dupe, Ill., July 26. Under the provisions of the new law, attorneys for the widow and for the railroad got together. They agreed that if the jury found the railroad to blame, the company would pay Mrs. Church $400.

This left the jury only one matter to determine: whether Church's own negligence contributed to his death to such an extent as to abate the road from blame. The jury found Church was not negligent.

SOMETHING NEW

A decidedly new Fall Hat is being shown by the Guerdan Hat Co., Broadway, near Walnut. It is foreign from anything attempted before for men's wear. The brim is underlined with silk and has a graceful new set. It is the most perfect hat ever made by Stetson and sold by Guerdan's exclusively.

SUIT FOR MINE SALE FEE BASELESS, MILLIKEN SAYS

John T. Milliken, St. Louis millionaire grain merchant, chemist, oil refiner and mine owner, Friday denied that he knew of any basis for a suit filed in New York by Robert A. C. Peterson for $500,000 fees alleged to be due him for arranging for the sale of the Golden Cycle mine of Colorado by Milliken. The suit Thursday was told of in late editions of the Post-Dispatch. Milliken said he had not sold the Golden Cycle mine and had not attempted to do so. Peterson alleged that in negotiating the sale of Milliken's controlling interest in the mine he had represented the Colorado Mines, Railways and Utilities Corporation.

PEER SAVES LIFE OF MAN WHO TOOK CYANIDE

Peer taken without medicinal intention, served as an antidote for a solution of cyanide of potassium, saved the life of George Farber, a chemist, of 124 Morrison avenue, according to his statement at the city hospital Friday. Farber was found in a semi-conscious condition at 1:30 P. M. Thursday, near a bench in Lafayette Park, with a note in his pocket stating that he had taken cyanide of potassium. When removed to the city hospital he improved rapidly, due to injections from his stomach. He told the physicians that he had been drinking beer freely.

He said he had a hazy recollection of writing the note found in his pocket, but did not remember purchasing the poison. He thinks he may have carried some of it away from the chemical laboratory where he is employed.

DEFENDANT IN DIVORCE SUIT WHO IS CHARGED WITH DESERTION

MRS. JOHN E. HOLMAN.

J. E. HOLMAN SUES WIFE FOR DIVORCE; ALLEGES DESERTION

Paper Box Maker Also Threatens Action Against Dr. Gradwohl Charging Alienation.

John E. Holman, vice-president of the Holman Paper Box Co., Thursday afternoon filed suit for a divorce from Ida A. Holman. Desertion is the only allegation in his petition.

The domestic troubles of the Holmans became public last March when Holman published newspaper advertisements saying he would not be responsible for his wife's debts and at the same time issued a statement that he would file a civil suit against Dr. R. E. H. Gradwohl, a bacteriologist, alleging that Dr. Gradwohl had alienated Mrs. Holman's affections.

Holman at the same time said that he intended to file a divorce suit and to name Dr. Gradwohl in his petition. Dr. Gradwohl disappeared.

The revelations as to the estrangement of Holman and his wife came after the mysterious disappearance of Dr. Gradwohl and the discovery that he had gone to Europe after sending a message to Mrs. Gradwohl that he would never return to her.

Mrs. Gradwohl gave out interviews in which she mentioned Mrs. Holman. For some time before Dr. Gradwohl's disappearance Mrs. Holman had lived in Chicago. She had been a student of bacteriology and had worked with Dr. Gradwohl in his St. Louis laboratory. It was alleged by Holman's lawyers that in August, 1912, Mrs. Holman met Gradwohl by appointment in Philadelphia and that they went to Asbury Park together.

When it was learned that Gradwohl had gone to Europe, inquiries were made at Mrs. Holman's home in Chicago. Her husband answered the doorbell, and said his wife was there, but that she could not be seen.

Gradwohl, after being absent about a month, returned to St. Louis and went to his mother's home, saying that he would never return to his wife. Mrs. Gradwohl did not carry out her announced intention to sue for a divorce.

BANKER FINK FILES BANKRUPTCY PETITION BY MAIL

Belleve Financier Accused of Embezzlement Schedules Liabilities at Danville.

Henry J. Fink, the Belleville private banker who is under bond on a charge of embezzlement and whose affairs are thought to be receiving the attention of the St. Clair County Grand Jury, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court at Danville, Ill., Friday morning. The petition was sent to Danville by mail.

In two foreclosure suits filed Friday against Fink fraudulent transactions are alleged. In both Fink is accused of releasing first mortgages without the knowledge of the holders and issuing other mortgages which were considered prior liens.

The first case filed was that of Mrs. Anna M. Horn. She names R. W. Ropkequet and several other persons as defendants with Fink. She says that in October, 1906, W. F. Carl mortgaged property in Lansdowne, East St. Louis, to Fink for $1300 and that she later bought the mortgage, Dec. 1, 1910, she charges, Fink allowed Roy Otis Dales to mortgage the property again for $1300.

She alleges that no money passed in this deal, but that the mortgage was given to Fink to negotiate and that it is in the hands of Ropkequet. She asks that Ropkequet be restrained from negotiating it and that he be required to surrender it for cancellation.

Mrs. Horn also alleges that Oct. 10, 1911, Fink released the mortgage held by her without paying any money to her or letting her know about it. She asks that this release be set aside and that the original mortgage be foreclosed.

The other case is that of Mrs. Emma C. Twitchell, wife of Dr. Ben Twitchell, former coroner of St. Clair County. In October, 1906, she alleges, Malcolm McCaughy mortgaged to Fink two pieces of East St. Louis property for $500. The plaintiff ultimately got possession of this mortgage which, she said, Fink released without her knowledge or consent in May, 1913.

RECALL OF DIAZ PLEASES OFFICIALS AT WASHINGTON

Wilson Considers Act Compliance of Request That Huerta Do Not Seek Re-Election.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—News that Gen. Felix Diaz, nephew of Porfirio Diaz, had been recalled to Mexico to become the candidate of the Huerta faction in the coming presidential election, aroused much interest here in official circles.

The general opinion was that the return of Diaz means a compliance with President Wilson's demand that Huerta should not be a candidate. So far as augmenting an era of peace, the outlook was described as encouraging.

Although the American Government in recognition to the Government set up by a legal and free election, it is said to be practically certain the United States would not hasten to recognize Diaz if he were elected, but would wait in accord with the precedents of the past. Huerta's administration to determine whether the resulting Government was strong enough to maintain peace and guarantee international obligations.

The policy of strict neutrality with respect to the exportation of arms and munitions of war from this country, however, will be continued until recognition is extended.

The fact that the Constitutionalists regard Diaz as being responsible for Huerta's downfall, it is thought here his election would mean a sharpening of the contest between the warring factions.

The attitude of the United States for the next few weeks is likely to be that of an interested spectator, with John Lind being retained at Vera Cruz to show the world generally that the United States stands ready to assist in the situation if its friendly offices are desired.

Huerta Issues Order for Diaz to Return Home.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 19.—President Huerta has directed War Minister Blanquet to order Felix Diaz to return immediately to Mexico. These instructions were cable to Diaz through the Mexican legation at Paris.

Now that Diaz will be a candidate at the elections next month, assuming that he participates with Huerta's approbation, there is little doubt that, with Huerta's assistance, his election will be assured. Diaz, as an army man, would have been forced to remain out of the country until ordered to return by the War Minister, but if he returns immediately he may be taken as evidence that Huerta has relinquished his own ambition to be Constitutional President.

When it becomes known here that Diaz is coming back, great impetus will be given his candidacy, which, until now, has existed chiefly in columns of newspapers financed by Diaz's friends. Little Diaz sentiment exists in the country, but sentiment could be created for him over night if he enters the race with Huerta's approval. The question is to what extent will Diaz be acceptable to the northern factions in arms against Huerta.

GOODMAN KING HOME AFTER TRIP ABROAD

Perhaps no one in St. Louis was so popular Thursday as Goodman King, president of the Mermood, Jaccard & King Jewelry Co., who had just arrived from abroad. Mr. King had many stories to tell, stories that were new, despite the fact that this was only one of the many trips that he has made across both oceans. He looked like London as he sat at his desk and talked about his trip. In fact one could almost see traces of fog rise from the English suit he wore as he talked about his plans for importations.

While abroad Mr. King made many contracts for the purchase of diamonds and other jewelry in the belief that the cost will soon advance at least 15 per cent. By purchasing now Mr. King declares he will be able to save hundreds of dollars to St. Louisans. It is Mr. King's belief that while heretofore persons bought diamonds for the stone alone, that now they not only pay attention to the cutting of the diamond or the coloring, but to the setting as well. In fact it is believed that the design of the setting will do more to influence the purchase hereafter than the stone itself.

Mr. King purposes to exhibit a replica of the famous pearl necklace found in London, valued at $50,000.

THAW UNEASY FOR FEAR OF MISSING AUTO RIDE

Storm, However, Keeps Crowd Away and Sheriff Promises Visit to State House.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 19.—An overcast sky, which indicated the probability that he would be denied a promised automobile ride, appeared to be H. K. Thaw's chief concern this morning. Sheriff Drew told him, however, that if the storm kept the crowd of curious under cover, he would be permitted to visit the State House and other public buildings.

The usual large amount of mail was awaiting Thaw and newspapers were piled high on his table when he appeared for breakfast. The published accounts of his own case were read as closely as ever.

Counsel continued today their preparations of the case to be submitted on Thaw's behalf to Gov. Feltner at the extradition hearing next Tuesday.

FENN CONCEALED FACTS IN MEXICAN LAND CONTROVERSY

Lawyer Wrote St. Louisans That He Was Withholding Results of Investigation.

A letter written by Bert F. Fenn, lawyer, and secretary of the Bondholders' Committee of the Continental Commercial Co., revealing that he was concealing from the stockholders of the corporation the condition and value of its property in Mexico, which they are seeking to recover, was introduced in evidence before Special Commissioner Holtcamp in the Charles Billharts suit Thursday afternoon.

This letter followed closely upon the testimony of Circuit Judge Thomas C. Hennings, former president of the company, that he was advised by a lawyer in Mexico City that the mortgage under which Fenn and his associates, as directors of the Continental Commercial Co., transferred to themselves as a bondholders' committee all of its assets, was illegal and not a valid lien upon the property.

Through this transfer, the stockholders, who invested something more than $2,000,000 in the Mexican plantations, were divested of their title to the property. The bondholders took possession of it, and afterwards transferred it to another corporation, and then caused the Continental Commercial Co. to be dissolved in Maine, where it was incorporated.

Would Not Divulge Facts. The Fenn letter was written to the Woodward & Tiernan Printing Co. under date of Sept. 6, in answer to an inquiry as to why he had not reported on the Mexican properties. Fenn stated that a committee representing the bondholders had been sent to Mexico to investigate the physical condition of the property.

"In regard to not having received a report since that time," he wrote, "will state that the writer who has just returned from Mexico, was preparing a report to send to the bondholders on what he saw, and what had been done on the plantation."

"That report would have been mailed on Aug. 30, but a suit was filed by disgruntled stockholders for the appointment of a receiver and other purposes, and the writer has declined to send out this report for the simple reason that he will not give the plaintiffs in this case any information whatever as to the conditions of the properties now, and I beg to state that under the law, if he were to send out a report and the plaintiffs could get hold of it, that even though the bondholders, through their assessments and the tremendous exertions made by the writer of this letter in putting that property on a self-sustaining basis in the period of a year, would be too great evidence, and such evidence as the writer will not allow to leave his possession."

Fenn stated further "that the matters are going on nicely in Mexico and the property, from and after this year, is absolutely self-sustaining and will be increasing its acreage yearly."

Through the Maine suit, the stockholders are seeking to have the dissolution of the Continental Commercial Co. set aside, and through a Missouri suit they are seeking to have the transfer of the property to Fenn and his associates set aside.

Warned Them, Hennings Says. Judge Hennings testified that he warned the bondholders committee, comprised of Fenn, Charles H. McKee, vice-president of Fenn, Democrat; Adolph P. Erker, and others, that they would make themselves liable to charges of fraud if they, as directors of the Continental Commercial Co., transferred to themselves, as bondholders, the assets of the corporation.

At that time, early in 1912, Judge Hennings said he had resigned as president and director of the company, and had been elected trustee under the mortgage to succeed the Lincoln Trust and Title Co. When the company failed to pay the interest on its bonds, the directors of the company notified him that they wished to take charge of the property and sell it.

Judge Hennings said that J. Harold Warner, a lawyer of Mexico City, was employed to arrange for foreclosure under the mortgage. Warner, he said, advised him that there was serious doubt as to the validity of the mortgage, and suggested other methods of getting out of the tangle. Judge Hennings said he went to Mexico City and became convinced himself that the mortgage given to secure the $500,000 bond issue was illegal, and not a valid lien upon the property.

He reported this fact to Fenn and others at a meeting, he said, and suggested a court proceeding to divest the corporation of title to the property. Disagreement at Meeting. "There was a disagreement at the meeting," Judge Hennings said. "I declined to accept through court proceedings. Fenn said he would do as he pleased and act without the trustee. The others agreed with him. I then resigned as trustee and refused to have anything more to do with the matter."

Fenn introduced an expert legal opinion, given by Warner's law firm in 1907, to the effect that the mortgage was valid, but Judge Hennings asserted that his later opinion was contradictory to the original opinion. Judge Hennings said he told Warner he believed the first opinion had misled many people and caused them to invest in the bonds which they believed to be a valid lien against the property.

The Maine case is to be tried before the Supreme Court in August next Tuesday. The depositions will be closed by Judge Holtcamp Friday or Saturday to give the attorneys time to go to Maine to present their case.

GROWS BEAUTIFUL, HEAVY HAIR, WE CAN PROVE IT—25 CENT "DANDERINE"

Destroys dandruff—Stops falling hair—Cleans and invigorates your scalp—Delightful dressing—Millions use it.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair, soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff, is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance; freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and luster, and, try as you will, you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp. Danderine is, we believe, the only article that grows, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.—ADV.

STEPBROTHER, 5, CLEARS TWO YOUTHS OF MURDER

Testifies He Saw Father Drink Poison After Stepphons Had Beaten Him.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 18.—The five-year-old stepbrother of William and Joseph Murphy has cleared them of the charge of murder.

The young men whipped their stepfather several days ago for abusing their mother, and the stepfather went home and took poison.

No one saw him do it and the coroner's jury was looking upon the testimony at the hearing with suspicion when the five-year-old boy, who was playing the court room, was asked if he saw the man drink out of a bottle the day he died. The youngster replied that he did and pointed to the poison bottle, on exhibit.

The jury returned a verdict clearing the two young men.

Sons of Veterans Elect Officers.
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 18.—John E. Sautter of Pittsburg, Pa., was elected Commander-in-Chief of the Sons of Veterans, in annual session here. Charles C. Behne of St. Louis is a member of the council-in-chief.

22 ARKANSAS LEVEE BOARD MEMBERS ACCUSED OF FRAUD

Misappropriation of Funds Charged by Grand Jury and All Are Arrested.

MARION, Ark., Sept. 18.—O. N. Kilgough, president of the St. Francis and Interstate Levee Board, was indicted by the grand jury of Crittenden County, has been indicted with 21 other members of the St. Francis board, charged with misfeasance, and was arrested this morning on a charge of grand larceny of $1000.

Kilgough also was arrested on a charge of embezzlement of $300.

Eugene Williams, secretary-treasurer of the St. Francis Levee Board, who was cashier of the bank of Forest City, Ark., which closed its doors recently, was arrested on a charge of failure to turn over to the board $10,000 of its funds.

All of the 22 members of the board, Kilgough and Williams, were arrested and gave bond today following indictments returned by the grand jury Thursday. The action of the grand jury today a factional political fight and a mass meeting of citizens held recently.

It was reported today that the entire board would resign on Oct. 1, when a second mass meeting of citizens will be held and definite action taken on a recent resolution to have officials of the board removed. Kilgough denied that officials of the board would resign under fire.

The charges of misfeasance against the board members grew out of alleged violations of the statute which provides for only a per diem charge. It is alleged the members misappropriated funds in accepting money in addition to the per diem charge.

Several of the indicted men were "arrested" over the telephone. Nearly all came to Marion and voluntarily surrendered. Gov. G. W. Hays will arrive here today from Little Rock to investigate the situation.

President Kilgough is well known in St. Louis. He has made frequent visits to the city and was last in St. Louis a month or so ago, conferring with the heads of the Rock Island and Missouri Pacific roads regarding the proposed location of a $10,000 bond issue of the St. Francis Levee Board.

SUES TO TAKE CHARGE OF HIS MOTHER'S ESTATE

Philip Pollack Asks That Appointment of Another Administrator Be Set Aside.

Philip Pollack, a lawyer, of 415 West Pine street, filed a petition in the Probate Court, Friday, asking that he be appointed administrator of the estate of his mother, Mrs. Mary Pollack, who died July 8 last. He asked that the appointment of Joseph D. Lawton as administrator be set aside, as Lawton was appointed without his knowledge or that of his brother, Martin Pollack. Four other children of Mrs. Pollack recently sued Philip Pollack for $12,000, which, they alleged, he owed to his mother's estate.

It was charged that Pollack had drawn money from a trust fund set aside for his mother's support.

In his petition Pollack said it was he who created this trust fund of $12,000 and that he spent the money drawn from it to support his mother. The other children, he said, contributed nothing to the fund and are entitled to no share in it. What remains of the fund, he says, should revert to him.

NEWEST STYLES AT THE CENTURY STORE

Despite the inclement weather Thursday, it took all the efforts of the saleswomen in the three floors of the Century Millinery Co., 415 North Broadway, to attend to the crowds of women attending the firm's fall opening. The Century is a unique shop. The entire three floors are devoted entirely to millinery, and it is the boast of Manager H. C. O'Brien that he can furnish the latest and pocketbook of any woman in St. Louis. At the fall opening there are to be found all the latest styles of hats from Paris, London and New York at moderate prices. There are hats for the baby, for the daughter, for the mother, and for the grandmother—hats of all styles, ranging in price from $7.50 to $10. The firm declares that the hats offered at these prices cannot be duplicated for double the money anywhere else in the city.

From the large stock on exhibition at the Century store, it can be seen at a glance that the tendency this year is toward hats of smaller size. There are still large hats in style, though not as large as they were some years ago.

STRIKE PATROL AMBUSHED

CALUMET, Mich., Sept. 18.—While on picket duty at the Isle Royale mine in the copper miners' strike zone before daylight this morning, Randolph Harvey, a private in Company A, from Kalamazoo, was shot from ambush, the bullet penetrating his right arm, then entering his body and lodging against a rib. It is not believed the wound will result fatally.

Soldiers and deputies scoured the woods nearby, but found no trace of the would-be assassin. The shooting is believed to have been done by a strike sympathizer.

CUTS OFF SON IN WILL BECAUSE HE CURSED HIM

Rich Mississippi Planter Leaves
Only $5 of Big Estate to Disrespectful Child.

MOBILE, Ala., Sept. 18.—Because his son had cursed him and had hoped he would be damned, W. A. James, a wealthy planter of Starkville, Miss., in a will cut off his son with only $5. The son, it is said, cursed the parent because the latter would not sign a bond demanded on a charge of peonage.

"I hope you will go to hell when you die, and I want to be there to heap coals of fire on your body. It will do me good to stand by and see the work well done," is the language it is alleged the son used in condemning his parent.

The estate was willed to other children.

FREEHOLDER TIED OF "OLD CODGERS" ADVICE ON CHARTER

Samuel Rosenfeld Prefers to Get
Ideas of City Government
From Experts.

At least one member of the Board of Freeholders does not wish to hear any more advice on charter building from the "old codgers" of St. Louis—those who may be. That member is Samuel Rosenfeld.

While expressing his views somewhat emphatically at the freeholders' meeting Thursday night on those he termed "old codgers," who always insisted, he said, that the way they did things was the only correct way, he declared that he was in favor of getting expert ideas from men who had made long and serious study of municipal government.

Rosenfeld, who is a lawyer and president of the West End Business Men's Association, wanted the city to employ an expert to examine the working of the present city government, so that the members would know how best to proceed with writing the charter. Other members disagreed with Rosenfeld, several of them offering to qualify as experts themselves on the workings of the city departments. The work should be done by the board members, it was agreed.

To Invite Editors to Speak.

The freeholders decided to invite the editors of the St. Louis daily newspapers and William Marion Reedy, editor of a weekly paper, to speak on charter subjects, and also to invite Mayor Baker of Cleveland and Mayo Fessler, also of Cleveland, who was secretary of the commission which prepared the new Cleveland charter, recently adopted.

In a general discussion of methods of procedure, the opinion seemed to prevail that it would be best for the freeholders to make an early start in framing the charter, and from time to time call in experts to advise them on different subjects.

It was agreed, on suggestion of Col. Fred Gardner, that the public service corporations would be given an opportunity to be heard on such charter matters as they were interested in.

Capt. Robert McCulloch of United Railways was invited to speak, but declined.

Most of the former city officials—except those coming under the classification of "old codgers," will be invited from time to time. Freeholder Rowe suggested that some of the "young codgers" might have some ideas which would be of benefit to the board.

A committee, comprised of Selden P. Spencer, Edward Flad and F. D. Gardner was appointed to consider whether the board should employ counsel. Freeholder Aloe insisted that the board ought to employ a lawyer to give opinions. He said he had been having to put up to the lawyer members of the board many subjects on which he desired legal advice, and he felt that he was imposing on them.

Freeholder Rowe opposed the appointment of the committee, declaring that the six lawyers on the board ought to be able to furnish all the legal advice required.

2 ST. LOUISANS ELECTED BY LABOR FEDERATION

Legislature Will Be Asked to Raise Age Limit for Girls
Working in Public Places.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Sept. 18.—Hannibal, Mo., was selected for the 1914 convention of the Missouri Federation of Labor, which closed its annual session here last night. The Federation adopted a resolution asking the appointment of women police officers at places of amusement in all large cities of the State. The Federation will urge the next Legislature to raise the age limit of girls, who work in public places, from 14 to 16 years.

The following officers were elected: R. T. Wood, Springfield, president; L. E. Lowerling, Kansas City, first vice-president; Mrs. Sadie Spraggon, St. Louis, second vice-president; John Helm, Richmond, third vice-president; John Smith, Kansas City, treasurer; J. Moran of St. Louis, was elected delegate to the national convention at Seattle, Wash.

Uses Gasoline by Mistake in Burning Old Papers.

Carl Crestine, 15 years old, of 3007 Wisconsin avenue, attempting to burn old papers in an iron pot on a common at 3300 South Jefferson avenue, used gasoline by mistake for coal oil, Thursday evening, and as a result was badly burned. The flame from the papers communicated with fumes from the can which the boy was handling and an explosion followed.

Carl was burned on the legs, arms and body. He was taken to the city hospital.

DUTY ON GLOVES URGED

Climate Failed; Medicine Effective

Best, fresh air and well-cooked, nourishing food do help many persons suffering with Lung Trouble. But in many cases the disease is only temporarily "arrested," and something more is needed. Eckman's Alternative is a medicine for Throat and Lung Troubles and has brought about many complete recoveries in many cases where the surroundings were not ideal. Judging by the many reports of recoveries received, we believe it should be used in every case of Lung Trouble. A remarkable case follows:

"My Dear Sir: Through your instrumentality I have been saved from a premature grave. On December 14, 1904, I was taken with Typhoid Pneumonia, which developed into Consumption. In February, 1905, I went to Fort Worth, Texas, and later to Canon City, Colorado. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that my case was hopeless. Three weeks later, I returned home, weighing 135 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive.

"On July 14, 1906, I began taking Eckman's Alternative for Consumption. Today I weigh 155 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about my grain elevator."

ROBBERS KILL TWO JEWELLERS, WOUND THIRD IN STORE

By Associated Press.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 19.—Two robbers, with drawn revolvers, entered the jewelry store of J. J. Thompson here, commanding the clerks to throw up their hands, and when they refused, opened fire. John A. Thompson and Ed Smith fell dead and Paul Townsend was probably fatally wounded. The robbers escaped.

The three men were alone in the store when the robbers entered. Townsend, who was taken to a local hospital, was able to tell the authorities only a few words concerning the tragedy.

The clerks were placing watches and jewels in their cases for the night when the men, masked, entered and demanded that Townsend, the watch repairer, throw up his hands. Townsend refused, tried to grapple with the men and was shot down. A bullet penetrated his neck. He believes that the other employees then rushed to his aid and were killed. He gave a description of the robbers.

After Thompson fell mortally wounded, one of the robbers snatched from his finger a diamond ring, while the second robber placed the contents of several trays of diamonds in his pockets and rifled the cash register. It is not known just how much the robbers obtained.

BOY OF 8 GIVES MONEY AND LOVE TO SAVE BABIES

By Associated Press.

One of the little friends of the babies is a new and very earnest contributor to the Post-Dispatch Pure Milk and Free Ice Fund. He is Julius Curley, 8 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. A. Curley of 6148 Berlin.

Accompanying a dollar which he earned himself, is the following letter, which he wrote to the newspaper: "Here is a dollar I earned for the babies. Will you please see that it goes to the right place? I hope it is not too late, for I do want the babies to have the money, because I know they need it. Love from us all."

Julius' money was not too late, and some baby will be much the better for it. It brings up the total of contributions for the year to $393.55.

Two little girls who have helped the campaign along are Marie Weissner, 2003 Arkansas avenue, and Nellie Wotchek, 3411 Sidney street. They earned $2.50 for the fund by selling lemonade and flowers.

Negresses Rob Men of $40.

Hugh Life, 37 years old, a shoe worker, residing at 438 Cottage avenue, passing the alley on Twenty-third street, between Olive and Locust streets, about 10 a. m. Thursday, was grabbed by two negroes, dragged into the alley and robbed of $40. The negroes then ran.

MAYOR GAYNOR'S BODY ARRIVES IN HOME IN BROOKLYN

Funeral Ship Lusitania Lands
Casket at Dawn; 100 Police Form Escort.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The body of William J. Gaynor, Mayor of New York, who died at sea, Sept. 10, lay today in the privacy of his Brooklyn home. In a drizzling rain it was lowered at 4 o'clock this morning from the deck of the liner Lusitania to the city's boat correction. An hour and a half later it arrived at the Battery, where it was met by a squad of 100 police, who had stood all night in the rain. The police escorted the body to Brooklyn.

The funeral ship anchored at Quarantine at 1:30 this morning, the American flag at her stern, drooping at half mast.

A solemn pallbearers carried the body in its heavy lead casket from the mortuary chapel to the dock and lowered it to the deck of the Correction.

The Correction cast off and dropped anchor a short distance away, awaiting the dawn. It was full day when the vessel came to rest in her slip.

Eight 6-foot tall bearers, four of the fire department and four of the police, lifted the casket to their shoulders and bore it over the gangplank to the hearse, and the long vigil of the picked squad of mounted police, sent on the pier at 9 o'clock, came to an end.

They led the funeral train through the deserted streets along Lower Broadway, past the city hall and over the Brooklyn Bridge.

It was after 8 o'clock when they reached the late Mayor's home, where the body will remain until tomorrow night. Private funeral services will be held there tomorrow afternoon and at their conclusion the body will be taken to the city hall, where it will lie in state until Monday morning, when funeral services will be held in Trinity Church.

With the Committee on Funeral Arrangements that went down the river on board the Correction were Norman Gaynor, the Mayor's son, and Harry Vingut, his son-in-law, representing the family. No other member of the Gaynor household was aboard.

It was Mrs. Gaynor's wish that as little publicity as possible be attached to the landing of the body. To facilitate this, the spot at which the body would be landed was not made public in advance. With the exception of the police, less than a hundred persons witnessed the transfer from the Correction to the hearse.

A handful of children on their way to school stood in a group at the doorway as the body was taken from the hearse. They would have been sent away by the police had not Robert Adamson, the dead Mayor's secretary, forbidden it.

"Let the children come into the house," he said; "they were the Mayor's best friends."

The order was carried out. A few minutes later when the children left they were in tears.

CHICAGOAN URGES ICE CURE FOR HAY FEVER
CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The ice cure for hay fever was announced at the International Congress of Refrigeration yesterday. Announcement was also made that similar methods have been successfully used for the prevention or cure of tropical diseases. The announcement was made by S. A. Vandervord, S. S. of Chicago.

Burglar, Disturbed, Flees With $70.
Mrs. Norman Bowers, 455 Wichita street, was awakened at 1 a. m. Friday, when a burglar dropped a pocket rule which he had extracted from the pocket of Bowers' trousers. Mrs. Bowers awakened her husband and the burglar fled out a kitchen door. Bowers' pocketbook containing about $70 was taken.

Auto Stolen Then Abandoned.
Talves took an automobile owned by Fred W. Bagnister of 433 West Belle place, from Grand avenue and Windsor place about 11:30 p. m. Thursday, drove it for half an hour and then left it at Leonard and Bell avenues where the police found it.

Early Fall Styles of Surpassing Beauty

The "SAVE-A-DOLLAR" Newark Shoe

WE cannot say too much about the extraordinary variety of the models,—we cannot say enough about the superb quality of the workmanship, we must always be inadequate in describing the faultless beauty of Newark Shoe styles.

Any man who can examine a pair of The Newark at $2.50 and see where they do not measure up fully to any $3.50 shoe he ever saw has seen something that has escaped the eye of over two million wearers of the Newark and the best shoe experts in the world.

That extra dollar you've been paying over the Newark's price was a dollar of PROFIT for the DEALER, you supposed. In the dollar because you are buying of the MAKER—not the dealer.

Kidney and Bladder Troubles Disappear

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses of Croxone.

If you are bothered with backache or rheumatism, have disagreeable, annoying bladder disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many miseries that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon.

It is a positive fact that Croxone promptly overcomes such diseases. It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out the poisonous waste matter from the blood. It neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate, long standing cases.

You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results. An original package costs but a trifle, and your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time.—ADVERTISEMENT.

CHILD BITTEN ON NOSE 2 HELD FOR SMUGGLING

Twenty-Two Persons Hurt by Dogs So Far This Week. When playing in front of his home Thursday evening, Jake Rudav, 6 years old, 1427 North Seventh street, was bitten on the nose by a stray dog. Reports of two other persons bitten Thursday brought the total of persons bitten for the week up to 22.

Eugene Johnson, aged 7, 2323A Keokuk street, was bitten on the right leg by a dog belonging to Charles Miller, 2005 Chippewa street. Nathan Rubin, 23, 1422 Biddle street, was bitten on the left leg by a dog belonging to Harry Kranslein, 1214 North Sixteenth street.

Pacific Coast Prisoners Accused of Being in Opium Conspiracy. SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Federal officials trailing an opium smuggler's ring have been stimulated to fresh activity by the arrest here of Thomas Murphy, alias Andrews, and Chung Kow. These men, officials assert, are a connecting link between dishonest customs employes and consumers of opium smuggled into Pacific Coast ports.

George Moore, alias Poole, alias Harris, who is alleged to be a leader of the ring, is reported to be on his way to the Mexican border. Government agents are in close pursuit.

YOU LIVE ACCORDING TO YOUR LIVER

Your Physician will tell you that a lazy Liver is the most common cause of that "run-down" feeling, lack of energy, constipation, etc.

Do you want to know how to feel fine always—to be 100 per cent efficient—to get back into fighting trim in a few hours, and to stay that way?

Ask your friend, the druggist, if salts—mineral waters—oil and most laxatives affect the Liver? Ask him if they stimulate a flow of Bile? He will answer—"No!"

Ask him if Bile is nature's great antiseptic, if it is needed to cleanse the bowels and blood? Ask him if poisons accumulate in the system when the Liver is inactive? He will answer—"Yes!"

Ask him if Podophyllin is a great Liver regulator. He will answer—"Yes."

Ask him why Podophyllin is not often prescribed, and he will tell you its taste is bitter and it causes griping and nausea.

Ask him—"Suppose the bitterness, griping and nausea of Podophyllin were eliminated without diminishing its efficacy, would Podophyllin be the ideal laxative and Liver regulator?" He will answer enthusiastically—"Yes!"

Now this great object has been accomplished. Podophyllin as combined in a new formula called PoDoLax, is pleasant to take, pleasant in its action, and pleasant in its after effects. PoDoLax goes directly to the seat of the trouble, the Liver, and releases the dammed up Bile. This Bile (Nature's own antiseptic), cleanses and disinfects the intestinal tract, removing the accumulated debris.

No wonder that PoDoLax is everywhere fast superseding common, half-way laxatives and dangerous Calomel. Get a bottle of PoDoLax today—use it immediately at any time upon first symptoms of bad breath—coated tongue—dizziness—loss of appetite—lack of energy—constipation and inactive Liver.

Remember the name PoDoLax—derived from Podophyllin, its principal constituent, and "lax" indicating its laxative effect.

FOOTPRINT LEFT BY BURGLAR LIKE THAT OF WOMAN

Found on Chair in J. W. Teasdale Home, 38 Kingsbury Bl., Which Is Robbed.

When John W. Teasdale and wife of 38 Kingsbury boulevard returned home Thursday evening from their summer home in Charlevoix, Mich., they discovered that a burglar had ransacked the residence in their absence. Silverware, Arabian figures and brass candleholders were missing. The most valuable thing taken was a water set presented to Mrs. Teasdale's grandfather by Henry W. Longfellow, the poet.

Mrs. Teasdale found a clear imprint of the burglar's bare foot on the seat of a highly polished chair in the library. It was so complete that Mrs. Teasdale could distinguish plainly the outline of the toes, which were small and perfectly shaped. The heel, too, was small, and it appeared that the burglar's arch was high like that of a woman's and therefore did not form part of the imprint.

Marie Thompson, the Teasdale maid, found that the silverware was gone when she went to the house in response to a telegram from her employers to prepare dinner for their arrival. She was arranging the dining room table when she discovered that all the flat silver and several other articles, including pitchers and trays, were missing.

Further investigation revealed the house had been entered through a French window at the side of the library.

J. W. Teasdale is president of the Teasdale Dried Fruit Co.

OFFERS TO SHOW GOOD AND BAD HAY AT THE CITY HALL

Feed Man's Proposition Rejected by Mayor Who Says He's Bricklayer, Not Hay Expert.

Mayor Kiel Friday threw up his hands when asked to be the judge in the controversy between commission men and feed dealers as to whether inferior hay is being furnished to the city on municipal contracts.

J. F. Quinlivan, a Merchants' Exchange feed man, who is supporting Delegate Deffaa in his contention that the city hay is bad, offered to give to the Mayor a sample of hay. He proposed to place on a wagon 20 bales of hay from the municipal stables and an equal number of bales of No. 1 timothy hay inspected and passed by the Merchants' Exchange experts. He said he would have the wagon driven to the city hall so that the Mayor and all others might see that the hay delivered to the city by contractors was inferior.

Delegate Deffaa also had a demonstration plan. He called on the Mayor and offered to have a wagon load of high-grade hay taken to the municipal stables for comparison with the hay already there. He invited the Mayor to go to the stables and see it.

Mayor Kiel declined both propositions on the ground that he is not a hay expert, but a bricklayer.

Meanwhile a committee appointed by the Merchants' Exchange has started on a round of inspection at the city stables and fire engine houses.

The committee was appointed by President Messmore of the Merchants' Exchange at the request of Supply Commissioner Thomas. Its members are Walter H. Toberman, D. W. Clifton, Henry Mack, William O'Toole and J. C. Allen.

Toberman and Clifton are members of the Merchants' Exchange Hay Committee which made an unofficial inspection of hay in municipal stables and engine houses Wednesday. On that day they were accompanied by Fred Deibel, also a member of the Hay Committee and president of one of the companies which has a contract to supply hay for the municipal stables.

Delegate Deffaa criticized this committee as being made up of men who were in the commission business and had sold hay to the concerns which have the city contracts.

The new committee contains both commission men and feed dealers, as suggested by Deffaa.

Find Only Poor Hay.

John D. Mullally and Sol D. Quinlivan, feed dealers, made an inspection of city hay at Deffaa's request Thursday afternoon and reported they found no No. 1 timothy at the municipal stables or at six engine houses. They found some which graded as No. 3 clover and said that 600 bales which they examined at the city stables were mainly wild grass, which had no nutritive value.

The Anchor Hay and Grain Co. has a contract to deliver No. 1 timothy to the municipal stables at $14.00 a ton. The Luehrmann Hay and Grain Co. has a contract to deliver the same grade to city fire engine houses at $21.45 a ton.

At the Supply Commissioner's office it was said that the difference in price was because of the conditions under which the hay is delivered. The Anchor company is required to deliver only at the municipal stables at Forest Park boulevard and Vandeventer avenue in east-end lots. The Luehrmann company is under much heavier delivery expense, as it is required to deliver any quantity ordered to any of the 40 engine houses where horses are kept.

ROBBERS' $4500.38 THEFT NETS ONLY $175.38 CASH

Two Highwaymen Waylay Brewery Agent on Way to Deposit Funds in Bank.

A theft of a grip containing $4,500.38 in money and checks by two men who waylaid William O'Mara at 3 P. M. Thursday while he was going to the Cass Avenue bank for the Columbia, Browning Co., will net the escaped robbers only $175.38.

O'Mara has been unable to identify any of five suspects held by the police because he got only a rear view of the fleeing men after they snatched the grip from his buggy at Fifteenth and Cass avenue. The men disappeared through a yard, blocking pursuit by O'Mara and a crowd of witnesses by locking a gate.

Of the $4,500.38 in the grip only $175.38 was in cash. The rest was in checks drawn on the Cass Avenue Bank, payable to the order of the Columbia branch of the Independent Breweries Co.

FELIX H. HUNICKE, ON EXPEDITION IN PANAMA, DROWNED

Former St. Louisan Was With Party Seeking New Source for Producing Rubber.

Commander Felix H. Hunicke, former St. Louisan who served in the navy in the Spanish-American War was drowned in Panama when with a party investigating vegetation with a view to producing synthetic rubber, according to a cablegram to relatives in New York and St. Louis.

No details of the accident have been received, further than the fact that the body has not been recovered.

An uncle, Herman A. Hunicke, cashier of the German Savings Bank of St. Louis, said Hunicke was representing a New Jersey concern on the Panama expedition, and that his widow and two sons reside at Roselle, N. J. Hunicke was an aid to Gen. Leonard Wood after the Spanish war, and was rated as an expert on naval matters. He was 33 years old.

The expedition, headed by Hunicke, penetrated the wilds of Northern Panama in search of a weed supposed to be of great value in the production of synthetic rubber. Hunicke had made the much sought discoveries and was the only member of the party who had complete information about the rare weed, as they found it in Panama. It is feared that his sudden death will seriously delay the perfection of a process by which synthetic rubber can be produced cheaply.

Hunicke received his early education in a private school in St. Louis, and at the age of 12 went to Germany to complete his studies. He entered Annapolis on his return to America, and was graduated with such high honors that he was appointed to serve two years as junior aid to Admiral Walker. He married Miss Minnie Hachstarr in 1884. In the Spanish war he was navigator of the gunboat Hist and was in the naval action at Santiago. His mother, Mrs. Johanna Hunicke, is living in Germany.

NOBODY CAN TELL IF YOU DARKEN YOUR GRAY, FADED HAIR WITH SAGE TEA

Druggist Says that Sage Tea when Mixed with Sulphur Prevents Dandruff and Stops Falling Hair.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, then left to age and carefully filtered will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching, and falling hair.

Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss. Some druggists make their own, but it isn't nearly so nice as "Wyeth's."

Local druggists say they are selling lots of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur," it surely helps folks appear years younger.—ADV.

What Do You Know About Any Motor Car Save the One You Own?

JUST think of the cars you have ridden in during the past year; and have you driven any other car than the one you own? Not one automobile owner in a hundred rides a dozen times a season in any other car than his own.

Under such conditions, with a limited knowledge of other cars, it is natural that every motorist is apt to think his is the best car built.

It is like the man who claims that his town is the best—yet who never goes to any other town. Remember the old Second Reader story about the pig that thought they knew the world until they got out of the pen and climbed the hill?

Now Let's Make a Good Examination of Six-Cylinder Cars

If you have never driven a Six, you can know nothing of their smoothness.

The man who never saw an electric lamp could easily be persuaded to believe that a kerosene lamp was just as good.

If you never drove a Six, you might easily be led to think that a Four could be made to run as smoothly.

You'll never know the difference except by actual experience.

Riding in a Six will convey some of the sensation.

You'll get that feeling of flying. You'll not experience any vibration. The motor will purr—almost noiselessly—and because there is a constant power impulse being imparted to the rear wheels, the grind and growl of the rear axle will not be heard.

But, when you take the wheel, you get an entirely new sensation in motoring. It is not high power that accounts for it. Four-cylinder motors can be made just as powerful as a six—or a one-cylinder could be, for that matter.

But, nothing short of six cylinders, through any design that engineers have ever conceived, will produce the smoothness and flexibility.

How to Determine Six-Cylinder Difference

Of course, all Sixes are not quite smooth. Design means much.

To be sure to get the very finest impression of what a Six means, drive a HUDSON Six 54.

Go to any HUDSON dealer. If you drive, have him let you take the wheel, and over any road, through the maze of city traffic, over the rough roads, up hill and down, you will see why it is possible to do 300 miles in a day with safety and comfort.

New Features in HUDSON Six 54

True streamline body—the handsomest car you ever saw. Highest standard of HUDSON design and construction. The very best we know in beauty and finish. Left-side drive. Right-hand control. Entrance to driver's seat from either side. Electrically self-organized and electric lighted.

Fully equipped with every necessary detail, $2285.

WON BY WAITING

By GEORGE ELMER COBB.

"I WISH you to encourage young Benton in his attentions, Nellie," spoke John Andrews to his daughter.

Nellie did not reply in words, but her face flushed and her head drooped. The word of John Andrews was law within his family circle and even his wife rarely dared to gainsay him.

Mrs. Andrews looked very solemn. She did not attempt to repress an opinion, however.

"Joel Benton dropped in to see me at the office yesterday," pursued Mr. Andrews in his usual precise lawyer-like way. "He intimated his sentiments towards you, Nellie. He was urged on to it, he explained, because of a bit of rare good fortune, as he expressed it, had come his way. As you know he and his assistant at his store, Rolfe Wilson, are related to the wealthy Jared Jones of Pittston. The old millionaire has never paid any attention to them. Yesterday Benton received a letter and a check for $5000 from Mr. Jones. It notified him that he might consider this royal gift as an indication that he was figuring on finding an acceptable heir to his enormous fortune."

"That is news, indeed," murmured the marveling Mrs. Andrews.

"So, Nellie," concluded her father, "there must be no more of this foolishness with Rolfe Wilson. The heir to a million is not to be picked up every day. Benton is already a young business man of standing, while Wilson is simply his clerk. Between the two there is no question as to the right choice."

"Oh, mother!" cried Nellie, rushing to the side of Mrs. Andrews and burying her tear-stained face in her lap.

The lady gently stroked the head of her darling and only child. She tried to speak soothing words and finally Nellie became calmer.

"There is indeed no question of choice between Rolfe and Benton!" said Nellie firmly. "Mr. Benton inherited the business he owns. Poor Rolfe gave up every dollar of his rightful inheritance to pay the old debts of his father."

"What's the Matter, Miss?"

"It was a noble sacrifice, dear," spoke Mrs. Andrews.

"He has gone to work like a man and he is all there to Mr. Benton's business," continued Nellie. "I don't care if Mr. Benton has a dozen millions, Rolfe has told me that he loves me, and I believe him and I will never marry anybody else."

Mrs. Andrews sighed in her patient, helpless way. She realized that her husband was a masterful man whose decisions it was hard to defy.

"I hope love will find a way, dear," she said simply and Nellie felt cheered even by her poor sympathy.

There was no fiction to the $5000 draft. Mr. Andrews had told about, whatever vagueness might appertain to the million. All the town knew that Joel Benton had money very shortly, plenty of it, and was spending it like a royal prince.

Almost simultaneously with the cashing of the draft Benton walked into the store he owned.

"You going to take a spell of rest, Wilson?" he said. "You can run things here."

"There is that debt to the city supply house," suggested Rolfe. "You know they are pressing for payment."

"Oh, I can't bother-let 'em wait."

"But you have plenty of money now."

"Yes, and I'm going to take one good fling and enjoy it," retorted Benton recklessly. "See here, old Jones will probably stake me for all I'll need after this. I've got a higher ambition than running a store. You know the business. How would you like to buy me out?"

"I haven't the cash."

"You've got some, I know. I'll be liberal. You assume that city debt and pay me $100 a month for six months and the store is yours."

"I will do that," assented Rolfe promptly and the bargain was consummated.

Before the end of that week Joel Benton gave the town such a stirring as the quiet, business-like man had never known before. He branched out as an incipient Croesus. The suits of clothes he bought must have come from Paris, his neighbors declared. He purchased a flaring red automobile, some diamonds, and took an expensive suite of rooms at the hotel.

Lawyer Andrews labored Rolfe Wilson. He proceeded to outwitted Benton. The latter began to call at the Andrews home regularly, much to the discomfort of poor Nellie.

Her father saw his opportunity and proceeded to talk business to Benton. On the assumption that he was a favored heir of old Jared Jones, the young spendthrift secured an option on a residence at the outskirts of the town.

"I'll make it over to Nellie this day she is my wife," pledged Benton. As to Nellie herself, she tried to give persistent suitors to understand that her heart could never be his. Amid the glamour of his dashing machine, expensive flowers and invitations to all the shows, however, Benton fancied he was irresistible. Nellie insisted that there should be no engagement for the present, and Benton was so obtuse that he attributed all this to conventional maidenly modesty.

The months rolled away. Once in a while Nellie met Rolfe casually. Once a week letters expressing their mutual love passed between them. Rolfe was working hard. It was a great day for his ambitious soul when he found the last debt of the store paid, together with the regular monthly instalments to Benton.

"It's all up with me!" Benton amazed him by saying, bursting into the store one morning early and without a word. "I have just sold the store and the picture of dejected misery and ruin."

"Why, what is the trouble?" inquired Rolfe.

"That $5000. I spent most of it. What I did not invest in a traveling motion picture show. The manager has made off with all the funds. Yesterday I wired Uncle Jared for another installment on my fortune. He telegraphed me back that such a spendthrift didn't suit him as an heir and I had missed my chance."

"And what about Nellie?" inquired Rolfe.

"Oh, that's all off now, of course," announced Benton. "I think she put me off foreseeing what a fool I'd make of myself. After all my big ideas and boastfulness I'll never dare to look her in the face again."

And then Rolfe Wilson felt so sorry for the poor broken-up fellow that he offered him a one-half interest in the little business if he would get down to earth again and work as he used to do, and Benton felt as grateful as a shipwrecked mariner landed safely in the home nest.

That was not all of it. One day Uncle Jared appeared at the little store and disclosed himself.

"I think you were still in giving away half your business to a spendthrift," he said to Rolfe, "but it shows you're good all through. From what I hear, I fancy you will know how to take care of a big store I've bought for you at Maiden and the rest of my fortune, when I get through with it."

Of course, Joel Benton got the little store as a generous gift and of course Rolfe got Nellie, fortune and bride being well worth waiting for.

Apples and Apples.

OME, O disconsolate victims of the high cost of living, come and get a glimpse of the beautiful art of promise, the near end of which is or was at the annual meeting of the Indiana Horticultural Society, held at Centerville on Thursday. It was there that in all the addresses and discussions of the day the speakers were agreed that Indiana "might become one of the greatest apple-producing states in the Union," that while the average annual crop is now less than 2,000,000 bushels, the normal production can be increased to 3,000,000 bushels—and then some.

But, soft! What interest can the ultimate consumer possibly have in a great production of apples? queries the Indianapolis News. Were he to read in the always reliable market reports that Indiana would produce this year or next year 10,000,000 bushels of the finest fruit that Pomona and her poets ever looked upon, what could it profit him? The commission man and his myrmidons would continue grudgingly to serve him with the same snarled, shriveled little apples at 40 to 50 cents a peck that particular son of Zeus.

Ours is indeed the punishment of Tantalus, that mythological sufferer of old—Tantalus, a son of Zeus, who up to his chin in water with apples bobbing at his very nose could never get a bite of the fruit; the liver—the action, restores the energy and vitality lost during the long, hot summer, tones up the digestive organs and puts the stomach into healthy condition, stimulates the liver, the action, strengthens weak kidneys and soothes tired nerves. It gives a good appetite and sound restful sleep. It will do you more good than a vacation trip and give new energy and vigor. If you have any ailment of the stomach, liver or kidneys, try Plant Juice. The results are quick and permanent. The Plant Juice man is at the Wolf-Wilson Drug Co. store. Get a bottle from him and if it does not benefit you he will return your money.—ADV.

WOMAN OF BUSINESS GIVES HER OPINION

Well-Known Business Woman of St. Louis Says Plant Juice Is Fine Remedy.

Among the well-known ladies of St. Louis who have been benefited by Plant Juice is Mrs. Lousie, who resides at 3411 Morgan street. Mrs. Lousie has lived in St. Louis for forty years and has been a successful business woman for twenty years. She owns a large apartment house at 1809 and is well known in the city. In speaking of her experience with Plant Juice, Mrs. Lousie says:

"I have been taking Plant Juice for stomach trouble and nervousness and the results have been fine. I am feeling better now than I have for a long time and have been telling my friends what a great remedy Plant Juice is."

Plant Juice tones up and strengthens the nervous system, invigorates and vitalizes the whole body. It removes all impurities from the blood, restores the energy and vitality lost during the long, hot summer, tones up the digestive organs and puts the stomach into healthy condition, stimulates the liver, the action, strengthens weak kidneys and soothes tired nerves. It gives a good appetite and sound restful sleep. It will do you more good than a vacation trip and give new energy and vigor. If you have any ailment of the stomach, liver or kidneys, try Plant Juice. The results are quick and permanent. The Plant Juice man is at the Wolf-Wilson Drug Co. store. ## How the Big Trees Corroborate the Old Testament

THE discovery that the big trees of California are an index to climatic conditions almost from the beginning of time has just been announced by Ellsworth Huntington, a government scientist, in a publication entitled "The Secret of Big Trees."

In the growth of the big trees, Mr. Huntington finds evidence that California suffered from the same drought that ended in Asia Minor when the Prophet Elijah prayed for rain 870 years before Christ.

Famine afflicted Palestine in the days of Elijah, according to the Biblical story. No rain fell, the brooks ran dry and distress was prevalent all over the land. King Ahab sent for Obadiah, and commanded him to "go through the land, unto all the fountains of water, and unto all the brooks; peradventure we may find grass and save the horses and mules alive, that we lose not all the beasts."

Obadiah met Elijah on his journey and escorted the latter to King Ahab. Elijah prayed for rain and the famine was stopped. From this famine, 870 years before Christ, to the Sierra Nevada Mountains seems a long cry, but Mr. Huntington claims he has bridged the distance by growth curves on the trees.

The curves begin with the epoch of the Trojan War, about 1200 B. C. There both curves dip very low, indicating an epoch of sudden and severe desiccation. That particular period, historians tell us, was one of the most chaotic in all history.

They're Wearing Pants.

THE widespread revolt of the once weaker sex has attained to the trousers stage at Lake Hopatcong. The women campers there, it is reported, have adopted khaki trousers as an undress uniform, in modern emulation of Diana. Some of them, with noble freedom of the divine huntress, also modernized, have even emerged from the woods so attired, unless the dispatches deceive us, to go shopping at Nolan's Point.

The screams, the protests, the howls of despair engendered by such behavior are coming, as they invariably do at first, from their sisters. That is not to say there is not a host of men who will object to an abandonment of the skirt, ample or tight, by woman. Urged on by home influence, some of the males will undoubtedly soon spring to its defense. In the meantime permit us a word or two of caution.

Don't base your objections to universal bifurcation on a plea for greater modesty. In view of present styles such an argument might prove a boomerang. And if you condemn the trousers as an inartistic and therefore wholly unworthy garment for creatures semi-divine, be prepared to lead the erring sister back into the paths of sartorial felicity by yourself reverting to the old Roman toga, the Indian's blanket or the Scotch kilt—New York Tribune.

What She Didn't Know.

"JOHN," complained Mrs. Dorkins, "the ashes and garbage in our alley have not been carted away for more than six weeks. I wish you would notify the authorities."

"It wouldn't do any good, Maria," said Mr. Dorkins. "The city has no money to pay for having the ashes and garbage hauled away. The explanation has been given a hundred times."

"No money? Why, that's awful. Then even the Mayor and the Aldermen have to go without their pay, don't they?"

"Oh, Maria, what you don't know about the business of running a city would fill a dozen Carnegie libraries."—Chicago Tribune.

When Children Were Passports.

RESIDENT WILSON is not likely to go so far as attempting to make "babes a passport to office" part of his country's Constitution. Augustus did it at Rome. By the lex papia poppaea, passed in A. D. 9, definite preference as regards office was given the fathers of satisfactory large families. Such fathers were eligible for large offices before the age of 25; they took precedence of colleagues with no children or fewer than three, and were preferred all round. The privilege was called the "privilegium liberorum" (three children privilege), but the qualifying number, three in Rome, was four in Italy, five in the provinces. The system, however, never worked well.—London Chronicle.

Women—"Creatures Without Choice."

ELEANOR STUART, who has spent much time in the East, puts into the mouth of an Oriental woman—one of the principal characters of her just published novel, "The Romance of All"—the following words: "Be pitiful of women, oh my master, for they are creatures without choice. East and West, the bills of exchange come into them in their Lord's passing fancy, and little son of mine, remember, you will measure your life's success by what you accomplish—your wives by what they endure." And again, when she refused to pray, she exclaimed, "Women are not dear to God; their requests might vex Him."

DOMESTIC DIALOGUE

By ALMA WOODWARD.

Superiority of Women.

Scene: Smith's flat.

RS. S. (meeting her spouse at the door)—For goodness sake, what have you got there, Henry? You do bring home the funniest shaped bundles!

Mr. S. (beaming): I bought an electric fan today.

Mrs. S. (well, the idea. Isn't that lovely? Will you put it up right away, Henry?)

Mr. S. (aw, not before I have my dinner).

Mrs. S. (coaxingly): Oh, yes! Then we can have it going while we're eating and pretend we're in a restaurant. Come on, Henry.

Mr. S. (hesitating a bit): Well, er, I don't know how to string up the thing exactly. I'll have to study the directions some.

Mrs. S. (palpating): Oh, it won't take you long. You're naturally so mechanical, anyway. And while you're reading them I'll save time by bringing in the wash rag and washing your face and hands for you.

Mr. S. (absently): Eh-huh. (Removes the last paper.) There you are. Isn't she a beauty? Nothing aside, eh?

Mrs. S. (looking hard): Oh, isn't that one of those oscillating ones?

Mr. S. (S. N. S.): Yes.

Mrs. S. (disappointed): Oh, why didn't you get one of those? They make lots more breeze.

Mr. S. (indignantly): They do not. They give you a draught for a quarter of a second and then just when you're getting ready to breathe it in they switch, and you irritate yourself to a temperature of 104 waiting for it to come around again.

Mrs. S. (gingerly): It isn't a very pretty fan, is it?

Mr. S. (with disgust): Pretty! Who ever said an electric fan was pretty?

Mrs. S. (slowly): Where did you buy it, Henry?

Mr. S. (terse): At a fire sale!

Mrs. S. (crescendo): At a fire sale! Then there's something the matter with it! It's damaged.

Mr. S. (peevishly): Say, I'm hungry. I want my dinner. I'll monkey with this thing after I've eaten.

Mrs. S. (with sharp censure): Do you mean to tell me that you could sit down to a meal in peace, not knowing whether this expensive thing is damaged or not?

Mr. S. (rebelliously): It isn't expensive. It cost only $6.30. And the first price was $12.50.

Mrs. S. (drately): What! Do you think people are in business for the benefit of mankind? Do you think anyone's right mind'd sell a six fan for $4 if there wasn't something the matter with it? You've been stung, Henry Smith. That's what's happened to you!

Mr. S. (fighting back weakly): I've been working hard all day, and then I lugged that heavy thing all the way up in the crowded subway, and I didn't have anything for lunch except a coffee malted milk!

Mrs. S. (answering): Well, if YOU haven't a supposition enough to test this thing I have. All you gotta do anyway is unscrew an electric light bulb and fasten this white thing at the end of the wire in the place where the bulb was. (Dubiously.) Isn't that all you gotta do?

Mr. S. (coldly): Why do you question me, when you know so much about it yourself?

(Mrs. S. proceeds to do as she said. She triumphantly fastens the plug in place.)

Mr. S. (deridingly): Directional! I'd like to know what ninnys'd have to have directions for a simple thing like that! (She turns it on.)

(There is a little hissing sound, a thud, crackling, blue flame and the entire flat is plunged into darkness.)

Mrs. S. (screaming out of the night): Henry! Henry! What's happened? Where are you?

(Mr. Smith, who has hotfooted it into the kitchen as soon as the gloom descended, finds himself at that instant with his face full of mashed potatoes.)

Mr. S. (making room for speech): Short circuit. And I ain't going to fix it till I've lost track of my appetite, either. Go light a candle and read the directions!

Mrs. S. (tearfully): Brute!

Next Tuesday
The property you want to sell should be listed with us because we can give it a wider market than you can possibly get for it in any other way.

Whenever a man asks us for property like yours in any section or property in your section of any sort, he will be asked to look at your property.

Compare this market with any single man's list of friends and you'll conclude to list your property with us.
